

OmniBrain Test Document

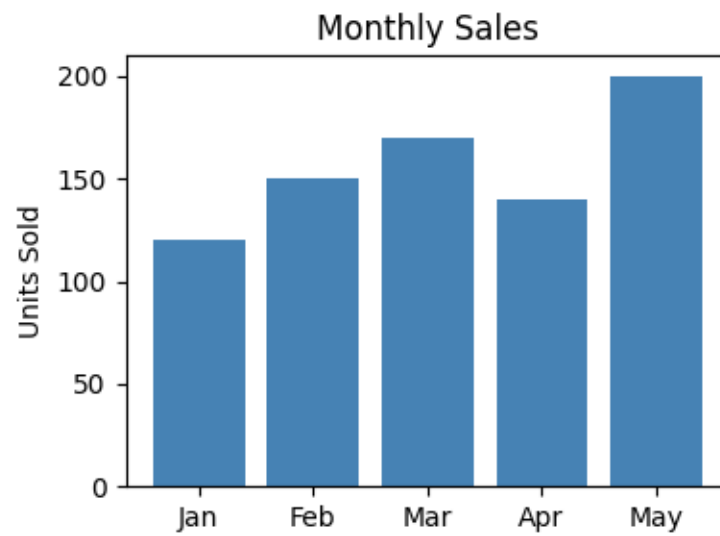

This is a sample PDF generated for testing the Document Processing module of the OmniBrain project. It contains plain text, a data table, and an embedded chart image so every extractor (text, table, image, metadata) can be tested end to end.

Retrieval-Augmented Generation systems often struggle when a document mixes narrative text with structured tables and visual charts. This sample file intentionally combines all three so the parser, chunker, table extractor, and image extractor can each be validated.
